

Operations Avoided

Hospitals in our great cities are sad places to visit. Three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow white beds are women and girls. Why should this be the case? Because they have neglected themselves.

Every one of these patients had plenty of warning in those dragging sensations, pain at the left or right of side, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back; all of which are indications of an unhealthy condition. Do not drag along at home or in your place of employment until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an examination and possible operation. Build up the feminine system, remove the derangements which have signified themselves by danger signals, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has saved many women from the hospital. Read the letters here published with the full consent of the writers, and see how they escaped operations by a faithful reliance on Mrs. Pinkham's advice and consistent treatment, with

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Perry Byers, of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I was told by my physician that I had a fibroid tumor and that I would have to be operated upon. I wrote to you for advice, which I followed carefully and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am not only cured of the tumor but other female troubles, and can do all my own work after eight years of suffering.

Miss Rose Moore, 307 W. 26th St., New York, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of the very worst form of female trouble and I wish to express to you my deepest gratitude. I suffered intensely for two years so that I was unable to attend to my duties and was a burden to my family. I doctored and doctored with only temporary relief and constantly objecting to an operation which I was advised to undergo. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it cured me of the terrible trouble and I am now in better health than I have been for many years.

This and other such cases should encourage every woman to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before she submits to an operation.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located, and helpful advice sent absolutely free.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND, made from Native Roots and Herbs, complies with all conditions of the new Pure Food and Drugs Law, and is so guaranteed.

CHANDLER SEES DR. FOSTER

Comes to White River Junction to Meet Him

FRYE DEEDS HIS REALTY

Transfer of Lot Near Mrs. Eddy's House to Munn On Day of Suit Called By Plaintiffs "Juggling."

Concord, N. H., April 24.—Further evidence which the plaintiffs say, corroborates the charges made by the "next friends" to the effect that there has been a "wholesome juggling" of bonds and other property belonging to Mrs. Eddy since it became known that litigation was threatened, cropped out yesterday when it was discovered that on the very day the bill in equity was filed, March 1, Calvin A. Frye, Mrs. Eddy's footman-secretary, transferred the only real estate he owned in Concord to August Mann, the coachman at Pleasant View.

The deed is on file at the registry for Merrimack county, and it shows that the property consists of a lot of land adjoining Mrs. Eddy's holdings at Pleasant View. The tract embraces about 11,000 square feet, and fronts on Tuttle street. The transfer, according to the deed, was made for a "consideration of one dollar," the usual vague entry which is permitted by law when the parties do not wish to disclose the price paid.

Counsel for the "next friends" think this was a nominal transfer to dodge any claim that might arise from the bill in equity.

Ex-Senator William E. Chandler and his associates, John W. Kelly and Dewitt C. Howe, went into conference again early yesterday morning.

At 11 o'clock Messrs. Chandler and Kelly went to White River Junction to have another talk with Dr. Ebenezer J. Foster, adopted son of Mrs. Eddy. This conference was arranged several weeks ago by Mr. Chandler, and Dr. Foster wrote that, owing to sickness in his household, he wished to see counsel at some point not too far from home. So White River Junction was agreed upon.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

A Story of The Sea.

Capt. Dan Dawson familiarly known as Dan in "Snug Harbor" and so delightfully portrayed by that clever character actor Henry Horton, previously known to us as dear Uncle Eben Holden, is a splendid type of the time and a genuine creation on the part of star and author. "Snug Harbor" is a spirited tale of love and life of today in quaint old Gloucester, that old seaport town of Massachusetts made familiar to us in song and poetry. Capt. Dan is a philosopher, a genuine humorist with fountains of sly wit in his glance and the breath of the sea in his words. The heroine, Helen, played by Miss Louise Hardenburgh, is a delightful daughter of the sea and her romance breathes of the ocean. The supporting company has been carefully chosen. The entire play is mounted with an elaborate scenic production. Without a doubt it is the most startling achievement in stage realism ever conceived. A delightful evening is in store for those who attend the opera house next Friday evening when "Snug Harbor" will be presented.

HENRY HORTON, Who Is Now Starring in Snug Harbor, Late Star in Elin Holden, at Barre Opera House Friday, April 26.

If that "comedy knuckle in two lays," known as "Not Yet But Soon," had depended upon comedy to make it a success at the Barre opera house last evening it would not have been a success. The efforts of the comedians were too strained generally, although at times they did provoke a ripple. Lucy Daly was warmly greeted as usual and her fantastic dancing provoked some merriment. But the charms work was extremely good and brought the play up to the average of comic operas that have visited this city in the past few seasons. Sandy Chapman singing "An Antonio" and "Some Days When Dreams Come True" with the company, got a good hand several times, as did Hay Ward, Fred Wyckoff, Marian Merrill and Madeline Buckley in their song "Things That Happen Every Day." Wyckoff is a favorite with Barre audiences and was no different this time. The opera centers about a sanitarium "Bughouse on the Hudson," and gives the lunatics a chance to do some stunts if nothing more than to come in and get weighed every five minutes.

Mr. George Sidney's appearance here as a star last season in that musical absurdity, "Busy Izzy's Vacation" will be remembered as one of the hits of the year, and the announcement of his return to the opera house next Tuesday evening in a new edition of the same piece will undoubtedly be hailed as a pleasant news by all. "Busy Izzy's Vacation" requires the services of a half hundred people, embracing some of the leading comedy exponents in the profession, among whom are the well known favorites, Carrie Webber, Maud Campbell, Nettie O'Brien Redding, Sadie Mahan, Matt Kennedy, Sid H. Forrest, Charles Lomier, Joe. Keno, Ray Montgomery and a big chorus of girls and boys. The scenic environments are all new and especially attractive, and the electrical effects present a kaleidoscopic mass of brilliant and bright colors.

The first act takes place in the Grand Central station depot, New York city, where we find "Busy Izzy" preparing to depart with friends upon a vacation tour. It is safe to say that many ludicrous incidents of travel transpire in this act. The costuming is up-to-date, with all the glitter and glamor of New York fashions, and a large contingent of show girls figure prominently. The second act is at Ocean View, California. The artist has produced a real art study in this setting, the various tints of the glorious tropical scene being harmoniously brought out. The surroundings depict a view of the Pacific Ocean with the setting sun brightening all with its soft light. The scene is one of grandeur to look upon, and the action of the piece vivacious—sparkling with color and teeming with life.

MASTER RESPONSIBLE.

Bad Judgment Wrecked the Berlin, With 125 Lost.

London, April 24.—The board of trade inquiry into the loss of the steamship Berlin, which ran upon the Hook of Holland on February 21, with the loss of 125 lives, has resulted in a finding that the disaster was due to an error of judgment on the part of the late master in attempting to enter the waterway in the weather that was prevailing and failing to make sufficient allowances for wind and sea.

AWFUL TORTURES

In Russian Jail to Make Prisoners Confess

RIGA CHARGES ARE TIME

Guilty Officials Will Be Punished By Government—Duma Postpones Discussion of Terrorism.

St. Petersburg, April 24.—The interpellation of the government in the lower house of parliament on April 15, on the subject of the mutiny in the prison at Riga on April 13, when seven wounded—the interpellation developed into an investigation of the charges brought against the prison authorities to the effect that they had tortured prisoners in order to obtain confessions, it being alleged that the tortures were the real cause of the mutiny—was the subject of a debate in the lower house of parliament today.

M. Pergament, Constitutional Democrat and a prominent lawyer of Kherson, read the report of the interpellation committee, which filled a good sized pamphlet and contained details of about seventy cases of torture in which the names of the victims were given. The report set forth that the victims were beaten on sensitive parts of their bodies with Cossack whips and rubber rods; that their fingernails and hair were pulled out, etc. The tortures in a number of cases were prolonged for eight or ten days. One victim, who was only twenty-two years old, looked like an old man after having passed through his tortures' hands.

The report added that it was difficult to determine exactly the number of victims, but it could safely be assumed that all who had been sentenced by drumhead court-martial or who had overpowered the prison officials at Riga on April 13 had passed through the torture chamber.

The vice-minister of the interior, M. Makaroff, and the vice-minister of justice, M. Luvri, replied in behalf of the government and were accorded a respectful hearing.

M. Makaroff detailed the results of the official investigation into the charges brought against the prison officials of Riga in March last, which, he admitted had been shown to be well founded. The prisoners, the speaker said, had been dubbed by the police at the time of their arrest and in the course of their examination in attempts to force confessions from them.

The complete illegality of these proceedings, M. Makaroff said, was admitted by the government authorities and had resulted in Premier Stolypin ordering that action be begun against the guilty persons. M. Makaroff then assured the house that the government had no intention of overlooking crimes committed by officials and added that the prosecution of the guilty persons had already begun.

M. Luvri then defended the prison guards for killing prisoners who attempted to escape from custody.

The debate was not ended when the house adjourned for the day.

JEWS FEAR MASSACRE ON RUSSIAN EASTER.

Members of The Duma Appeal to M. Stolypin.

St. Petersburg, April 24.—In view of the repeated telegrams from their constituents reiterating fears of anti-Jewish excesses at the Russian Easter, which begins April 25, caused by the circulation of Black Hundred publications openly appealing to the Union of the True Russian People to slay the Jews, a delegation of members of the lower house of parliament from the government's pale called on Premier Stolypin today and asked him to give orders for the prevention of such publications and assure the peace stricken population that order would be maintained.

M. Stolypin promised to immediately telegraph to the governors instructing them to take all the measures possible for the prevention of disorder and reassure the Jewish population that no excesses would be permitted.

"BOMB" FOR BINGHAM.

Funny Fellow Sends Him a Mysterious Tin Box.

New York, April 24.—Some individual with a peculiar sense of humor today sent to Police Commissioner Bingham a mysterious tin box, neatly wrapped, neatly sealed and wrapped in a bill of lading of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad. It was received through the mail at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the Commissioner's office. From the out-dangled a five-inch string, made to look like a fuse. The box was 1 1/2x2 1/2x3 inches in dimensions and was tightly wrapped with twine and wire. When the box was opened it was found to contain a kitten. The kitten was dead.
